NEW

for your counseling program
THE SRA READING RECORD

by Dr. Guy T. Buswell, Professor of Educational Psychology and Director of the Reading Clinic, University of Chicago.

The new SRA Reading Record measures ten basic reading skills necessary for reading proficiency. It shows the teacher where students' reading weaknesses lie, so that he can plan a reading program suitable for the needs of individual students. Students draw their own self-interpreting profiles based on norms established on 3,000 students in twenty-five schools and colleges throughout the country. The SRA Reading Record is standardized on junior and senior high school students, and college freshmen.

- Durable booklet of ten step-down sheets
- Answer pads permit repeated use of booklet
- Administration takes a single class period
- Pin-punch method speeds scoring
- Students score tests in two minutes
- Students draw their own profiles
